

FACTS VS. RUFFLES REBUKES HYLANISM

Citizens Union Campaign Book
Says Issue Is Against Hearst and Murphy.

GALLERY PLAY ASSAILED

Mayor Helpless in Conserving City's Home Rule, Is Charge.

"Facts versus Flourishes and Ruffles" is the striking title of a campaign book issued by the Citizens Union for reference use by anti-Tammany speakers. "What four years of Hylan, Hearst and Murphy have done to New York" is the sub-head of the publication, copies of which may be obtained at the Coalition headquarters in the Murray Hill Hotel or the Citizens Union offices.

At the beginning the issue of the campaign is stated thus:

"The issue in this campaign is not Gov. Miller, it is not a five cent fare to which every candidate on every ticket is unilaterally pledged; it is not home rule, to which every loyal New Yorker is devoted. The issue is Hylan, Hearst and Murphy and the sort of government they stand for—the increase of patronage and favoritism at the expense of the taxpayer, the policy of obstruction to every progressive step in administration—the sort of government that is preventing New York from getting the home rule it is crying for.

"No amount of shouting about 'Millerism' can blot out the record of buncombe and buffoonery, faking and flourishes, that have marked the four years' record of Hylan in the City Hall. If New York city ever wins its fight for home rule it will not be through a policy of obstruction, nor a combination of blatant demagoguery and cheap gallery play, such as the present regime has offered, but by the earnest proof that the city, as a whole, deserves it. The Hylan administration has not afforded that proof. This little book contains some facts about the present regime that should be known to every citizen before he goes to the polls on November 8.

"Hylan as Mayor has been, on his own confession, utterly helpless in conserving the city's home rule powers. He only talks and makes gestures. Curran as Mayor, with a record for home rule antecedents, and with a clear record as an advocate of a five cent fare, can, with the loyal cooperation of his colleagues, Lockwood and Gilroy, get results where Hylan has failed."

One chapter undertakes to prove that the policy of the Hylan administration always has been one of obstruction or destruction, never construction. His promises are matched with his performance. Some of the sayings of the Mayor are quoted, the one where he told the teachers if they did not like their meagre salary they could "go and get other jobs," and another telling the department heads to excuse employees to attend to religious duties, "but absence occasioned thereby to be without pay."

A chapter on "Invisible Government Made Visible" relates the story of how the McManus, Tammany leaders, had been able to "put across" things in the present administration. Other chapter heads are: "Mayor Hylan's Five Cent Fare Myth," "Hylan's Home Rule," "Some facts about his police and traction aids," showing how they came from Philadelphia, Delaware, Orange county, Westchester, Colorado, Nassau county, everywhere but New York.

TEACHERS HERE HONOR NATIONAL PRESIDENT

500 Attend Luncheon for Miss Williams.

Five hundred school teachers, principals and superintendents of the metropolitan district attended a luncheon yesterday at the Hotel Commodore in honor of Miss Charl O. Williams, president of the National Education Association. Miss Williams is superintendent of schools in Shelby county, Tennessee.

An address was made by Anning S. Prall, president of the Board of Education. He quoted Fire Chief Kenlon as having said that all the schools in the city were fire traps, denied this was true, and added that "the political protagonists of the present administration would lead people to believe that the present school system of the city has been undermined."

Other speakers were Ambrose Cort, New York State director of the N. E. A., and Prof. George D. Strayer of Columbia, a former president of the association. Miss Williams declared that New York teachers were the most enthusiastic of any in the country, and attractive to their work and to larger educational needs.

BUDGET BEYOND TAX LIMIT FAILS TO PASS

Increases in Personal Service
Items Put In After Labor Leaders' Protest.

FINAL VOTE TO-MORROW

Estimate Board Served With Writ Seeking Restoration of $5,000,000 Cuts.

By the negative vote of the two Republican members of the Board of Estimate, Mayor Hylan was prevented yesterday from gaining the adoption of a budget for next year of approximately $1,500,000 more than the tax limit will produce, according to the figures of Comptroller Charles L. Craig.

At the same time, it was learned that the $3,000,000 increase in personal service appropriations over the tentative budget—more than enough to wipe out the excess—were thrown into the proposed budget after a delegation of labor leaders had protested to the Hylan administration against any reduction under the present year appropriations. The reduced figures in the tentative budget were based upon the fact that already there has been a substantial general decrease in wages paid by employers other than the city, and the opinion of the board's examiners that the coming year would see a further drop. The labor appropriations are based upon a rate of $5 a day, while already general contractors. It is stated, are paying as low as $4.

When the board met, Stewart Browne, president of the United Real Estate Owners Association, presented the members with copies of a new Supreme Court order to show cause to-morrow morning why a writ of mandamus should not issue compelling the board to restore the approximately $5,000,000 of cuts made in the appropriations for police, city employees and school teacher pension funds.

Mr. Browne got his court orders on the table just a second ahead of an order from Mayor Hylan to his policeman to keep Mr. Browne out of the chamber. He then retired and the services of the policeman were not needed.

The Comptroller explained that because of "misleading statements emanating from the rumor factory," the cut in the appropriation for the Teachers' Retirement System, has been restored and a corresponding reduction has been set over on tax deficiency accounts to be covered by transfers, which otherwise were intended to go to the Teachers' Retirement System.

The budget total which was voted upon yesterday, was $30,000,000, or approximately $1,000,000 less than the figure last submitted. To produce that reduction, $70,000 was taken from the Department of Street Cleaning, $300,000 from supplies and unforeseen repairs for public schools and the remainder from miscellaneous sources.

The Comptroller said he expected to be able to effect further reductions before a final vote is taken to-morrow afternoon, at which time a mere majority will be sufficient to adopt the budget.

business at 267 West 126th street, and called for the withdrawal of 240 cases of whiskey from the Rugby Distillery Company of Louisville, and was dated in October of last year.

Assumed Names Used.

In connection with this permit the Government agents said yesterday they were in possession of a letter from Levy to the United States Mortgage and Trust Company, 55 Cedar street, supported by an affidavit in which he sets forth that funds amounting to $2,530 deposited in the name of William A. Collins in the 125th street branch of the institution are in reality his, and that the name William A. Collins was an assumed one used by his brother, Benedict Levy. The letter of Levy to the United States Mortgage and Trust Company was witnessed by Herman Ratner, who is alleged to be another of Levy's permit dummies, and tried on a burglary indictment. He was who also is held in $10,000 bail on a charge of having forged withdrawal permits in his possession.

Assistant United States Attorney McCormick said yesterday it was the Government's intention to press the case against Levy and his associates with the utmost vigor, and that indictments would be asked for either on charges of conspiracy to defraud the Government or forgery before the time set for the hearing before Commissioner Hitchcock.

Judge Garrin in the Federal Court in Brooklyn yesterday passed sentence on three men convicted of impersonating Federal prohibition agents and obtaining money from Queens saloon keepers. He sentenced Thomas Clark to one year and five months and John Freed and Michael McKenna to one year and nine months each. The terms are to be served at Atlanta.

DENTIST ADMITS BURGLARY.

Dr. G. H. King.

Dr. George E. King, who was, five years ago, a leading dentist of Brooklyn, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Martin in Kings County Court to unlawful entry while he was being another of Levy's permit dummies, and tried on a burglary indictment. He was alleged to have entered the soft drink store of Isadore Weiss at 845 Fulton street, around the corner from his room at 530 Washington avenue, and stolen money from the cash drawer. Dr. King's friends say excessive drink is the cause of his trouble.
